

MAY 13TH, FEATURED ART ON DISPLAY

KAISER GALLERY – 2418 Professor Ave.

Silent Fields

Silent Fields is a thought-provoking exhibition that will make you stop and think about the consequences of human activity on bees. Pollinators are necessary for the world's food security, yet humans are directly harming these delicate insects. Silent Fields is an exhibition that raises awareness of the importance of pollinators and the need to protect them. Silent Fields exhibition raises awareness for how important it is to protect pollinators and showcases them in a new light. Presenting the works of Melissa Harvey, Maggie Latham, Kimit Menapace, Georgio Sabino III and David Strange. Plus, curated cocktails.

818 STUDIO – 818 Jefferson Ave.

The Big Photography Show

Things are blowing up at 818 Studios in Tremont—or at least the photography prints are. The Big Photography Show is a group exhibition of 2-3 works each by 15 veteran and new Cleveland area photographers. This show features LARGE print work by Cleveland's finest photographers. Artists include Jay Brown, Matthew Chasney, Hadley Conner, Jacques Gauvin, Jef Janis, Keith Marlowe, Ken Matosky, Barbara Merritt, Bryon Miller, Karen Novak, Anastasia Pantios, Bob Perkoski, Barney Taxel, Steve Vaccareillo, Brad Williams.

DOUBTING THOMAS – 856 Jefferson Ave.

The Oil Refinery Reeks of Love

Works by Matt Kiroff and Jace Lee. Jace Lee is a painter based in Cleveland. Her practice is concerned with language and systems of organization, often translating information from one medium to another. Her paintings and drawings exist as a record of human desire for order, and the beauty that emerges from this process. Lee graduated with a BFA in Painting from the Cleveland Institute of Art in 2021.

PAUL DUDA GALLERY – 2342 Professor Ave.

A gallery full of iconic Cleveland photography.

MEGAN DARDIS – 2535 Scranton Road

A gallery showcasing the paintings and drawings of Megan Dardis. Her abstract paintings depict explosive events and waves of movement and motion, in which she combines geometric and linear elements with painterly brushstrokes in vibrant color palettes.
