

WALKABOUT TREMONT™

Friday, June 9 from 5 - 9 p.m.

FEATURED ART ON DISPLAY

Kaiser Gallery – 2418 Professor Ave.

Solo Show with Jamie M. Richey – opening reception

Jamie M. Richey's captivating series, titled "Common Thread," delves into conceptual ideas, contradictions, and double standards through a collection of mixed media artworks. Combining Richey's photography with various materials such as thread, paint, and incorporating collage and text, this series offers a thought-provoking exploration.

818 STUDIO – 818 Jefferson Ave.

The Art Shop – opening reception

More than 20 artists will showcase their work, ranging from fine art paintings and hand-made jewelry to artisan soaps and handmade gifts. All items will be available for immediate purchase.

Paul Duda Gallery – 2342 Professor Ave.

A gallery full of iconic Cleveland photography.

Doubting Thomas Gallery – 856 Jefferson Ave.

EARTH: Our One and Only

This group exhibition features new works from more than 30 artists examining the topic of Earth as one of the five classical elements and its significance from an environmental perspective.

Megan Dardis Art Studio – 2535 Scranton Rd.

Dardis has new works that are still very much about bright and explosive color, but with a new exploration in depth and texture. Open 5-7 p.m.

OTHER ART ON DISPLAY

- FLYING MONKEY – Hall of Framers
- TREEHOUSE – Jenny Chalk Doodles is back with some new, cheesy, Cleveland-y doodles, plus some oldies
- 2379 PROFESSOR AVE. – Jim Ray will be selling prints of his Cleveland-inspired illustrations and water colors in front of his studio
