

“Fall for Walkabout”

Walkabout Tremont | Friday, Sept. 13, 2024

FEATURED ART

Doubting Thomas - 856 Jefferson Ave.
6-10 p.m. Ten Years of Tape - Seth Louis James Treanor.

What if duct tape replaced the stroke of a brush, the line of a pen, or the screen of a print? This question was the spark that began a 10-year journey of exploring the capabilities and development of a technique to do just that. Using Duct Tape, wax paper, sharpie markers, scissors, razor blades, and a ton of patience, Seth developed a process to produce some pretty wild canvas works. What started as a "mosaic style" eventually evolved into what is on display today. "Taking inspiration from my interests, the challenges/limitations, the process itself, and the world around me, I have found ways to use duct tape to create a variety of styles and images that most people don't realize are even made of tape until they get up close. Observe from afar, get up close, and enjoy this evening as I share my works spanning the past ten years of this exciting journey."
